STUDY DAY

Bio-ARA

Accompanied Self-Rehabilitation in bio-based materials

Facing the challenge of shared renovation of the Mining towns of Nord-Pas-de-Calais

Local and national actors of ARA and bio-geosourced materials discuss together the results of the week and imagine the conditions for a massification of Bio-ARA in the renovation of social heritage (reglementation, insurance, investment and management, training, duration of building sites, etc.)

Participatory construction sites for private homes and short training courses in bio-geosourced materials have a growing success, linking the pleasure of collective work with these materials and the subsistence research for participants. Could the ARA make it possible to open up social housing to such practices?
